

Sheriff's Department

Brian Schenck

Sheriff

- The month of January began with the Sheriff “deputizing” Olivia Vitale, a young lady from our community that is very deserving of the title, “Honorary Junior Deputy.” Olivia has been saving allowance to donate it to worthy causes that include providing our K-9, Aron, with a bed and supplies, and also contributing to buying a needy family gifts during the holidays. Our entire department is very touched by Olivia’s generosity and it is very commendable.
- The Sheriff’s Emergency Response Team (SERT) had a training in January to prepare for incidents that could potentially happen in the jail.
- On January 9, the Sheriff met his constituents in the Town of Niles to discuss any issues in an open forum. The Sheriff will continue to visit townships throughout 2020 to keep the lines of communication open.
- January 9th was Law Enforcement Appreciation Day and the Home Depot and Cayuga County 911 office provided treats to our law officers to say thank you.
- Deputy Adam Bacon was assigned to serve as the Student Resource Officer (SRO) at Cayuga Onondaga BOCES campus in Auburn.
- Students from around the County were honored at the Weedsport High School Cafeteria on January 11th. These students, MacKenzie Whittaker, Nick Gray, Dylan Langdon, Emily Clark, Mariah Sowles, Hanna Marek, Ailish Cuthbert and Raziel Demaria attended the Heart of New York Teen Institute Youth Leadership program. This program empowers teens to create a positive change in themselves and in their communities. The program was sponsored by the Cayuga County Drug Free Coalition and JoLynn Mulholland and Julie Liccion of the Auburn School District also attended.
- The Sheriff’s Office released their first ever Annual Report featuring the year’s accomplishments, retirees, new hires and more. If you have not had a chance to look at this yet, please check out our web site where there is a link to the document.
- Students from the Jordan Elbridge School District who are exploring a career in law enforcement and/or criminal justice, met with the Sheriff and were escorted throughout the building and the jail and shown many of our programs.
- Lieutenant Michael Wellauer joined the Rescue Mission and other agencies in the Auburn area to do a welfare check on the homeless in the community. The Homeless Task Force will go out periodically to see if they can locate people who might need shelter or medical treatment.
- The Sheriff attended a four day Winter Conference in Albany in January where he and other Sheriffs from across the State of New York gathered to discuss issues at state and local levels.
- The Child Passenger Safety program for December reports that 3 seats were inspected, 1 was replaced and for January, 5 seats were inspected and 3 seats were replaced.
