Part II: Implementation Plan

Introduction

The Cayuga County Agriculture and Farmland Protection Board (AFPB), after collecting and reviewing participant input from public discussion meetings, focus group meetings and one-on-one interviews, developed a plan of action to support the county’s agricultural economy and protect farmland in the next ten years, from 2015 to 2025. This implementation plan centers around three priority goals:

Goal 1: Improve economic opportunities for agriculture-related businesses in Cayuga County;

Goal 2: Achieve widespread awareness and appreciation in the county of the economic, health and cultural importance of local food and local agriculture;

Goal 3: Ensure a vibrant future for farming in Cayuga County.

The AFPB, with assistance from the Cayuga County Department of Planning and Economic Development (CCPED), will work closely with interested partners to progress with plan implementation in a timely manner. The AFPB is also responsible for reviewing the implementation plan annually to determine the level of progress completed, to reevaluate priorities and to make necessary revisions.

Below, each goal is broken down into a list of objectives, or targets to meet, that together can accomplish the goal. Objectives are further broken down into specific actions, or concrete tasks, that together can meet each objective. This extensive list of actions will require the involvement of many partners working together. To assist in carrying out each action, a list of potential partners and funding sources were identified. No partner listed is required to assist in the plan’s implementation but all will hopefully choose to support the process of improving and protecting Cayuga County’s agriculture in ways that fit their organization’s mission and abilities.

A priority level was also assigned to each action to help organize implementation efforts. Recommended priorities include HIGH, MODERATE and LOW. High priority actions are suggested to be taken up and initiated as soon as possible with whatever time and resources the partners have available. Moderate and low priority actions are still important and should not be neglected, so AFPB and partners should use whatever remaining time and resources that have not already been devoted to high priority actions on these ones.
Each action includes an estimated amount of time that it may take for the task to be accomplished, once efforts have begun to implement it. For example, Action 1-1.1: Conduct a food system assessment, may take between one to three years to accomplish but the action does not necessarily need to be started immediately as it is also listed as a low priority. This means that the AFPB and potential partners should focus on higher priority tasks (even if they may take longer to accomplish) before devoting resources to this one.

The section below highlights 5 key actions that the AFPB and its partners should begin implementing as soon as the plan is approved. That section is followed by a breakdown of all goals, objectives and actions, with a summary table of all actions organized from HIGH to LOW priority.

Key Actions

The AFPB and its partners should begin implementing this plan as soon as it is approved by the County Legislature and the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets by focusing on five key high priority actions. These actions were chosen based on a number of factors, including the long-term impact of the action on the community, the ease of accomplishment, and their influence as first steps to build off of as other implementation actions are taken.

1. Action 1-1.4: Launch a “buy local” campaign that will focus on the economic and health benefits of supporting local agriculture. Raising local consumer awareness of the opportunities to purchase local foods and the benefits of doing so can spur local demand for farmers’ goods.

   Potential Partners: County Chamber of Commerce, CCHD
   Funding Resources: NYSDAM Regional “Buy Local” Campaign Development Grant
   Priority: HIGH
   Estimated Time to Complete Once Action Begins: 1-3 years

Well-executed “buy local” campaigns have a proven track record of boosting sales of small businesses, including agriculturally-based ones. There is growing interest on the local, regional and national levels about local food production. However, there is still much work to be done in Cayuga County to spread the word that buying locally produced foods would benefit not only our local economy but could benefit our health, as well. A successful “buy local” campaign may have a multitude of benefits that can help meet several objectives in the implementation plan; it can raise awareness and appreciation of the local agricultural economy by the general public, boost farmers’ local sales of their products, and generate consumer demand for restaurants and schools to serve meals with more locally-sourced ingredients.

The budget for this action would primarily consist of partner staff labor to design the campaign, recruit and coordinate meetings of participating businesses, and manage the campaign once it is launched. Marketing materials such as flyers, posters, window decals, newspaper ads and a website would also likely require dedicated funds. At least one funding source has been identified.

2. Action 1-3.1: Provide agricultural economic development services through identified and trained staff by coordinating economic development efforts for all agricultural sectors and providing one-on-one assistance to farmers and agriculture-related business owners for start-up and existing growth opportunities. Staff should coordinate with other entities such as CCE, NYS Department of Agriculture and Markets Division of Agricultural Development and Farm Credit East.

   Potential Partners: CEDA
   Funding Resources: CEDA staff time, CEDA and CCPED loan programs, USDA Rural Business Enterprise Grant Program, USDA-FSA loan programs, Finger Lakes Grants Information Center
   Priority: HIGH
   Estimated Time to Complete Once Action Begins: 1-3 years

A common refrain from farmers during public meetings and focus groups was the frustration with working with the many entities that provide assistance to farmers and the need for access to local, coordinated business support. Integrating the needs of the agricultural business community with the one-stop model at the Cayuga Economic Development Agency (CEDA) will provide much-needed business support to agricultural operations of all sizes as they work to grow and sustain their businesses. This action compliments CEDA’s 2011 strategic plan, which calls for improving service delivery to small farmers.

The budget for this action would likely primarily consist of partner staff time to coordinate existing business support efforts and continue outreach to agricultural businesses to identify their needs and how best to serve them. CEDA has identified existing staff capacity to address this action without the need of creating a new position.

3. Action 2-2.3: Organize fun, family-friendly annual informational and educational events for schools and the general public and/or organize Farm Day events on K-12 school campuses.

   Potential Partners: Farm Bureau, CCE, School Districts, BOCES
   Funding Resources: Farm Bureau, USDA Farm to School Grant Program
   Priority: HIGH
   Estimated Time to Complete Once Action Begins: 1-3 years

Organizing fun farm events for children and their families will increase the agricultural literacy and appreciation by our communities for local agriculture as a major economic engine and a source of healthy foods. This increased awareness and appreciation is essential to the long-term viability of our farms, and over time may help maintain a diversity of farm sizes and production types by developing and sustaining a robust local market for locally produced foods. These events also have the potential of introducing children to farming who may not otherwise have an opportunity to discover a career in agriculture.
The budget for this action would likely primarily consist of staff and volunteer time to recruit participating farms, schools and other organizations, and plan the events. Other budget expenses may include transportation costs for school trips and marketing materials to publicize the events.

4. Action 2-1.2: Provide trainings, information and one-on-one technical assistance for local and county planning board, zoning board of appeals, town board, and village board members about agriculture-related land uses and impacts of local regulations on the viability of agriculture.

   Potential Partners: CCPED
   Funding Resources: CCPED staff time
   Priority: HIGH
   Estimated Time to Complete Once Action Begins: on-going

Cumbersome or restrictive land use regulations can significantly impact farm business growth and viability. Addressing existing issues and working with towns and villages to prevent the creation of future impacts is essential to the diversity and long-term viability of our agricultural economy, especially for niche producers, small-scale retail outlets such as farm markets, and value-added activities that some may not view as “traditional” agricultural activities. CCPED already provides technical support to town and village governments for all their planning and zoning needs, including those related to agriculture, and will continue to prioritize trainings and informational outreach on this topic. Specific outreach efforts and training topics, such as farm-friendly land use policies, Cost of Community Services Studies and other farmland protection tools like PDR can initially be based on the needs and challenges identified as the County Agriculture and Farmland Protection Plan was developed.

The budget for this action would likely primarily consist of CCPED staff time.

5. Action 3-2.1: Provide one-on-one technical assistance to address farmers’ nutrient, resource and farm management challenges, with a focus on improving the quality and implementation of farm plans. Assist farmers in identifying relevant state and federal loan and grant opportunities to help meet their needs.

   Potential Partners: SWCD, CCE
   Funding Resources: partner staff time
   Priority: HIGH
   Estimated Time to Complete Once Action Begins: on-going

A sound farm plan and its effective implementation is essential to sound stewardship of natural resources. There already exists strong technical support in the county to address farm management needs, but particular attention should be paid to ensuring that the quality of farm plans remain high and that all farmers know how to effectively implement their plans. SWCD and CCE will continue to prioritize addressing these priorities by engaging with farmers, farm planners and other agencies as needed.

The budget for this action would likely primarily consist of partner staff time.
